The GilAir Plus Personal Pump Carrying Pouch is an accessory designed to provide further protection and robustness to the GilAir Plus. Made from high-quality ballistic nylon and molded connectors, the Personal Pump Pouch protects your air sampling pump investment.

The case features six zones of impact-padding that cushion the pump enclosure. Wraparound design offers an improved barrier against sprays and mists without compromising sampling.

Two straps are provided with the Personal Pump Carrying Pouch - a shoulder strap and waist strap. The shoulder strap includes loops for securing sample tubing and aids in preventing crimped tubing during a sample. The belt loop can be used in situations where users are unable to use the belt clip on the pump enclosure.
